

Resolution

WHEREAS the quality of public education in a community significantly contributes to quality of life of its residents;

WHEREAS the Oak Hill Association of Neighborhoods has a stated mission to promote positive change and provide an advocate force for Southwest Austin;

WHEREAS AISD has a stated mission that all students will progress academically and intellectually and will graduate prepared for personal success and inspired to contribute to society, and this success depends on high quality staff and instruction, as well as a safe and orderly learning environment and good facilities;

WHEREAS the Austin Independent School District Citizens' 2004 Bond Advisory Committee adopted a set of high priority projects that meet the greatest areas of need throughout the district;

WHEREAS the Citizens Bond Committee made recommendations to protect the District's investment in its buildings, classrooms and athletic facilities by making much-needed repairs and renovations, to ensure all children attend safe schools by adding safety and security improvements, and to help relieve overcrowding by building new permanent classrooms and schools;

WHEREAS the Committee recommended equitable investments so that every child throughout the District would be positively touched through investments at each and every school in AISD;

WHEREAS the current and future children of Southwest Austin will benefit from the new schools and school improvements funded by the AISD 2004 Bond proposals;

WHEREAS the AISD Board of Trustees has called for a Bond Election for Saturday, September 11, 2004;

NOW THEREFORE be it resolved that the Oak Hill Association of Neighborhoods supports the passage of the AISD 2004 School Bond Election in that the investment in AISD schools enhances education excellence in our community.
